

Children's Sleepwear

Nearly 100 children are severely burned every year while wearing sleepwear. Most of these burns occur while wearing either loose-fitting nightgowns or cotton sleepwear. Children should ALWAYS go to sleep in a safely surrounded environment.

SAFETY TIPS:

- Don't allow your child to sleep in a large, roomy t-shirt or other loose fitting cotton clothing.

FACTS AND FIGURES:

- Children should wear tight fitting, 100% polyester sleepwear – polyester is flame resistant and makes ignitions very difficult.
- 100% cotton or cotton/poly blends are very flammable and ignite quickly.
